

Getting Around

- Finding a place to build
- Region Posts

Finding a place to build

So, you're new, and you want to find a piece of (roughly) untouched, pristine land for you to explore and build around?

Great! Pop open the menu and select the random teleport item, or type /rtp into the chat. After 5 seconds, you'll be teleported to a random location surrounding Channelside. You'll automatically be placed outside of any existing towns, should you run into one.

Region Posts

Region posts are scattered across the server. They're an experimental plugin that implements a kind of long distance fast-travel system. They're only created by the server admins; players cannot create them yet, though a plan for that is in the works. A region post is a colored block of wool on top of a cobblestone and glowstone pedestal. Clicking on the wool will allow you to access a menu of nearby region posts. Clicking one of the items will teleport you there!

Regions are sorted in the menu by visit activity. The more people that visit a region, the closer to first its listed.